Likewise, the case study is to be provided as a separate PDF saved in Adobe Pro. The file is to be named as - Case Study then your Surname and your First name (e.g. Case Study Blogg James).

All pages must be in their original orientation to enable them to be read without the Assessors having to change the orientation of the view.

Before sending to NZRAB, check that accessing the documents work when using another device. Also, check carefully that you have done everything required; otherwise there may be delays and we may need corrections from you.

Transmission to the NZRAB:

Your two PDFs - the application document and the case study - may be provided to the NZRAB by way of:

- hosting these documents in the cloud and sending links to both documents to registration@nkrab.org.nz.

You'll find these files will be too big to be sent as email attachments.

An acknowledgment will be emailed following the intake close off date.

Next steps:

On receipt of the documentation and the fee, the NZRAB will check that everything is correct.

Communications with you will be by email. Your replies must be to the NZRAB office only.

You will be advised of when your professional conversation will take place and the venue. Prior to the professional conversation, the Assessors may ask for further information from you.

Withdrawals:

If you withdraw up to five working days prior to your professional conversation, you will receive a refund. Periods of less than five working days are at the discretion of the CE, NZRAB (e.g. illness or bereavement).

Afterwards:

At the professional conversation you will be given a handout explaining what happens afterwards.

Most importantly, afterwards please don't contact your Assessors directly for any reason.

Once a final decision has been made, your case study will be deleted from the NZRAB data base, but we will retain your application document for our records.
